

Isaac van Wolgren

c/o Vienna Monster-Slaying Institute
1427 Dragonswing Street, Office 456
Vienna, Austria 76432-A

Phone: (099) 7463-7367 E-mail: isaac@monsterslay.au

Education

Ph.D. in Dragonic Sciences

Berlin University of Arcane Knowledge, 2006

M.A. in Dragon-Fighting

Warrior University (Rome, Italy), 2001.

B.A. High Honours in Monster-Hunting

Poland National University (Warsaw), 1998.

Work Experience

Head of Dragon-Hunting Studies

Vienna Monster-Slaying Institute

Vienna, Austria

January 2002 – present

- Teaching students how to hunt, trick, and kill dragons
- Administrating the handling of funds gained from dragon treasures
- Developing new weapons for fighting against dragons
- Killing dragons when necessary

Freelance Dragon Slayer

Warsaw, Poland

May 1997 – present

- Catching and killing dragons of all ages and types
- Developing plans for hunting and capturing dragons and other monsters
- Successfully keeping Warsaw safe from dragons and monsters for five years.
- Creating several new weapons for dragonslayers, such as the crash-gun and the fire-wall

University Teaching Assistant

Poland National University

Warsaw, Poland

1997 – 1998.

- Helping professor in preparing lesson plans and class materials
- Feeding baby dragons and cleaning their cages
- Meeting with students and helping them study
- Helping mark student assignments and tests

Other Activities

- Participating in the European Monster-Slayer's Guild.
- Studying languages, including German, French, and English, as well as Ancient Egyptian and Chinese.
- Publishing both true stories and academic articles in various print publications around the world, most recently in Rome's SLAYER magazine.
- Serving as member of the Editorial Board for the Eastern Europe Editorial Committee for the European Monster-Slayer's Guild newsletter.
- Studying ancient Egyptian magic.
- Advisor to German, Austrian, Czech, and Polish governments on monster-related issues.
- Listening to classical music and reading great literature.

Isaac van Wolgren

c/o Vienna Monster-Slaying Institute
1427 Dragonswing Street, Office 456
Vienna, Austria 76432-A
Phone: (099) 7463-7367 E-mail: isaac@monsterslay.au

Education:

M.A. in Dragon-Fighting

Warrior University (Rome, Italy), 2001.

B.A. High Honours in Monster-Hunting

Poland National University (Warsaw, Poland), 1998.

Skills and Abilities:

Monster-Hunting

- Catching and killing dragons of all ages and types, and experience with ghosts, gremlins, bogeymen, and other creatures.
- Developing plans for hunting and capturing dragons and other monsters.
- Successfully keeping Warsaw safe from dragons and monsters for five years.

Research and Academic Skills

- Creating several new weapons for dragonslayers, such as the crash-gun and the fire-wall.
- Helping professors in preparing lesson plans and class materials, and in marking exams and assignments.
- Feeding baby dragons and cleaning their cages.
- Meeting with students and helping them study.

Magical and Accounting Skills

- Accounting and basic investment skills in dealing with dragon treasure.
- Using basic magic spells for survival and research.
- Recognizing famous antiques and using archaeological knowledge.

Work Experience:

Freelance Dragon Slayer

1997 – present

Warsaw, Poland

University Teaching Assistant

Poland National University

1997 – 1998.

Warsaw, Poland

Other Activities:

- Member of the European Monster-Slayer's Guild.
- Studying languages, including German, French, and English, as well as Ancient Egyptian and Chinese.
- Publishing both true stories and academic articles in various print publications all over Poland.
- Studying ancient Egyptian magic.
- Advisor to the Polish government on monster-related issues.
- Listening to classical music and reading great literature.